March 5, 2008

Dear Parents:

The winter has been mild by comparison, but, to date, conditions have necessitated closing school for four days. Our 2007/2008 school calendar included only three snow days. We must make adjustments to our calendar in order to end the year with the state required 180 student school days.

The staff in-service day scheduled for April 7, 2008, will be changed to a student school day. If emergency conditions require any additional school closings, the days will be made up by holding school during the previously scheduled spring recess. If necessary, the first day used will be Tuesday, March 25, 2008, followed by Monday, March 24, 2008.

Hopefully, we have seen the last of the snow for this school year and any changes to our school calendar will not be required.

Sincerely,

Peter Merluzzi
Superintendent of Schools
